

METAL STANDING SEAM

THE TRUSTED METAL ROOFING SYSTEM

The most common form of metal roofing in use today, the classic standing seam roofing profile provides both form and function. Since the roof panels are fabricated to the full length of the roof, a standing seam roof has no seams to fail. In addition, since there are no exposed fasteners anywhere in the roofing system, entry points for moisture leaks are virtually eliminated. Durable and comprised of premium steel, our standing seam roofing is maintenance-free.

For lower slope roofs that are below the minimum slope for stamped panel roofing products, Cornett Roofing has developed a Double Lock standing seam system. This roof system is ideal for flat areas, covered walkways and awnings.

CLASSIC STYLE THE PROVEN METAL ROOF

Standing Seam Roofing provides the classic metal roofing look, without the seams and exposed fasteners of lesser quality systems. Perfect for home and business roofing projects, Standing Seam roofing is visually appealing and virtually maintenance-free.

Standing Seam metal roofing, known for its clean lines and uniform appearance, can be used in a variety of building applications. From entire roofs to porches and bay window covers, the standing seam system can be customized to provide many different design options.
